Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 11, 13, 15, 17, 21, 23, 25, 27, 31, 33, 35, 37, 39, 41, 43 and 45-46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Leroux et al. (US 5534744).

Regarding claims 11, 21, 31, and 39, Leroux et al. disclose a cathode substrate including a substrate 2 (Fig 6) a cap layer (silica layer 4 and layer 52), an anti-reflective coating or light blocking layer (52, here layer 52 is an light absorbing layer, line 35-36 of Col. 6, light absorbing layer does not reflect light thus it is also anti-reflective) included within it (see col. 5, lines 49-50, under layer 52), and an array of emitter tips 12 formed on the cap layer.

Referring to claims 13, 18, 23, 28, 33, 38, 41 & 46, it is noted that the subject product-by-process claim limitation is not afforded patentable weight (see MPEP 2113).

Claims 15, 25, 35, and 43 are rejected for the same reason as claims 11, 21, 31, and 39.

Claims 17, 27, 37, and 45 are rejected for the same reason as claims 11, 21, 31, and 39.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 12, 14, 16, 22, 24, 26, 32, 34, 36, 40, 42, and 44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Leroux et al.

Referring to claims 12, 22, 32, and 40, Leroux et al. disclose a cathode substrate as recited in claims 11, 21, 31, and 39 including a substrate 2 made of glass. See col. 1, lines 41-45. Leroux et al. do not disclose a cathode substrate wherein the substrate 2 made of soda-lime glass. The selection of known materials for a known purpose is generally considered to be within the skill of the art. It would have been obvious to use soda-lime glass, for the substrate 2, as disclosed by Leroux et al., because the selection of known materials for a known purpose is generally considered to be within the skill of the art.

Referring to claims 14, 24, 34, and 42, Leroux et al. disclose a cathode substrate as recited in claims 11, 21, 31, and 39 including a cap layer 4. Leroux et al. are silent as to the thickness of the cap layer 4. The specification of a suitable thickness is within the skill of the art. It would have been obvious to specify a suitable thickness for the cap layer 4, because changes in size are generally considered to be within the skill of the art.

Claims 16, 26, 36, and 44 are rejected for the same reason as claims 12, 22, 32, and 40.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed on 01 March 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive for following reasons:

Applicant alleges that light absorbing layer 52 is not within the layer 4 but is disposed above layer 4. Examiner agrees.

Claim limitation recites a cap layer having an antireflective coating within it. However, applicant misread cap layer as silica layer 4. Cap layer of Leroux et al. consist of two layers a silica layer 4 and an anti-reflective or light blocking layer 52 on the silica layer, then a conductive layer 5 is disposed on it which is same as applicant's Fig 3 & Fig 4, where cap layer 42 consists of layer 44 and antireflection or light blocking layer 45, on top of which a conductive layer 36 is formed, thus the argument of under layer 52 not within cap layer is not valid.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

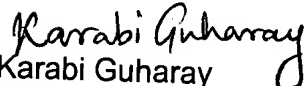

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
